

March 11 th, 2008

Dear Prof. MAGDALINOVIC,

EDUNIVERSAL and its Scientific Committee have the great pleasure to grant you the EDUNIVERSAL diploma that designates Megatrend University of Applied Sciences Faculty of Management as part of the official selection 2008 of the 1.000 best worldwide Business Schools.

EDUNIVERSAL's ambition is to promote students' mobility all over the world and give a better visibility of the best Business Schools from more than 151 countries, but also to encourage all educational actors to share their experience and collaborate in a better way.

As you might be aware, this Selection is an emanation of a worldwide expertise which is done thanks to the research, work, and participation of 9 well-known international experts coming from 9 geographical areas (Africa, North America, Latin America, Central Asia, Eurasia & Middle East, Oceania), and a representative of the Academic Council of the United Nations System. Your presence in this Selection reflects the excellence of the educational level you provide and the international dimension of your school department: we congratulate you, and encourage you to keep going that way.

Being part of this Selection of the 1.000 best Business Schools offers advantages and rights. Thus, we are grateful that many Deans answered to our invitation by voting through www.eduniversal.net, with their login and password, given by email before. By electing and giving their point of view, they made possible the elaboration of this classification.

We are pleased to announce that thanks to the recommendation and the note of Deans, a classification of the 1.000 Business Schools selected will become public on March 25th at www.eduniversal.com.

From 2009, EDUNIVERSAL Official Selection would be renewed every two years. Thus, the 1.000 best Business Schools would evolve every two years. We already invite you cordially to pursue your participation and give your point of view by giving your recommendation on www.eduniversal.net, for the next worldwide classification which would be published in 2009. Should you need any additional information about the election and EDUNIVERSAL System, please do not hesitate to contact EDUNIVERSAL Team.

By going on www.eduniversal.com, you will note that some information about your school is already available. Some partners have already decided to complete their information. You can also choose to improve your international visibility by completing your school card and programs details on www.eduniversal.biz.

The International Relations Department is at your disposal to give you some advices and suggest the best option on the online platform, settled only for the 1.000 best Business Schools from all over the world.

I look forward our next exchange.

Yours faithfully,

Tel. +33 1 48 57 97 44
Fax. +33 1 48 58 26 41

Martial GUIETTE
CEO EDUNIVERSAL - SMBG

contact@eduniversal.com

18/20 avenue Gabriel Péri
93100 Montreuil-sous-Bois
FRANCE